ALERRT Instructors prepare law enforcement responders to work in small teams to neutralize an active shooter threat, control the scene, provide initial emergency medical care for critically wounded individuals, and get them evacuated quickly and safely to a location so they can receive definitive medical care.

ALERRT Level 1 is considered the national standard for law enforcement response to an active shooter incident and has been adopted by numerous law enforcement agencies across the country.

